WHO IS RAHUL

Design, Create, and Wonder

Rahul is a designer from Bangalore who likes things clear, simple and organized. He enjoys making websites, designing interfaces, and building small 3D ideas in Blender. He works calmly, thinks before he creates, and loves when a layout finally falls into place. Rahul is the structured side, the one who plans, arranges, and makes sure every idea actually works. He takes 100 photos to keep 5. Quality over everything.

WHAT CAN RAHUL DO

Website & Interaction Design · Product Design
3D modelling · UI Prototyping

Rahul is the guy who designs clean websites, makes smooth UI, plays with Blender, fixes broken layouts, and turns messy ideas into workable plans. He loves grids, good spacing, organized files, and anything that makes a design feel balanced. If something needs structure, clarity, or a "let's actually make this work", Rahul's the one doing it.

WHO IS BUBBLES

Design, Photograph, and Tell stories

Bubbles is the fun, spontaneous version of Rahul. He photographs whenever something feels right, makes quick creative decisions and tells stories straight from the heart. He's chaotic in the best way and brings the energy, the colour, and the emotion into everything he creates. He chooses the music before he edits every time.

WHAT CAN BUBBLES DO

Photography · Videography
Storytelling · Visual Direction

Bubbles captures moments, tells stories, and makes things feel emotional and alive. He takes cinematic photos, shoots videos that feel like movies, and tells simple stories that make people feel something. He's quick, and sees beauty in small details. His skill (self) is all about photography, videography, and storytelling, making visuals that feel nostalgic, and real.

"Everyone keeps telling me how my story is supposed to go.
Nah, I'm a do my own thing"
~Miles Morales

WAIT, THIS ACTUALLY WORKS?

YES, IT DID!

Rahul and Bubbles have been busy, accidentally productive busy. One of them builds websites and 3D worlds with way-too-much focus, and the other runs around with a camera making everything look like a film scene. Together, they've cooked up Blender experiments, clean websites, emotional photos, and short films that weren't supposed to be deep but somehow became deep anyway. Here's everything they've managed to create without burning the house down.

3D MODELLING

Ninjutsu room

Rahul created this "80's ninja Room" in Blender to show the kind of vibe he and Bubbles would love to hang out in. The room has bright neon lights, Japanese ninja weapons on display, a cozy lounge area and arcade games. Rahul focused on making the room clean, organized, and well-lit while Bubbles added the fun details, the glowing swords, the bright colors, and the little bits of chaos that make the room feel alive. Together, they built a room that looks cool, feels personal, and matches their style.

Rahul made sure the room actually made sense.
Bubbles added all the dramatic glowing weapons for fun.

WEBSITE

The Velvet Lounge

Rahul created a website having a retro style resto bar called The Velvet Lounge. He designed the pages to look warm, clean, and easy to use, with smooth navigation and simple layouts. Rahul focused on making the website match the cozy and classic look of the bar.

Bubbles added the fun ideas in the website, where if mouse is turned on, a hidden page called "Secret" appears. This tab shows the recipes for the drinks and dishes. It's a small surprise that makes the website feel special and playful.

"Everyone needs one hidden corner. So I added the Secret tab."

"I tried to keep the website calm and classy... until Bubbles showed up."
~Rahul

"I added the Secret tab because normal websites are boring. You're welcome."

PHOTOGRAPHY

Camera and its person

In photography, Rahul and Bubbles work as a team. Bubbles turns one who goes into a flow state, running around with his camera. He notices small things, follows the light, and captures moments the second they happen. He sees the world in a unique way and takes photos that feel live.

Split second

Rahul steps in to add balance and neatness. He fixes the angles, checks the lines, and makes sure every photo looks clean and well-framed. Together, they create pictures that are both natural and perfect.

VIDEOGRAPHY

Camera + story + life

Split-second moments, puzzle

This short film started with a simple concept and a tiny story about small changes, quiet emotions, and how people move through their day without realizing how cinematic they actually are. Rahul and Bubbles turned that idea into something real. Bubbles chased the feelings in the story, capturing its playful expressions and tiny details that made the characters feel real. Rahul took the concept and shaped it into frames, proper pacing, clean cuts, and a structure that kept the film clear and easy to follow.

Storyboards

Most of the project was just them experimenting. They tried new angles, played with lighting, changed plans halfway, and laughed every time a shot went wrong. The process was messy but fun, exactly the kind of chaos Rahul secretly enjoys and Bubbles openly celebrates. What they ended up with wasn't just a film but a mix of story, instinct, and a lot of "wait, do that again".

"Trust the chaos, the camera loves it."

"Bro, the camera also loves stability. Please."
